HELP YOUR HORSE.

A Few "Don'ts" Drivers Should Know and Remember.

1. Don't use cold bits in cold weather. Your horse's tongue is tender and his mouth is formed of delicate glands and tissues.
2. Don't elip your horse when the mercury is at freezing point.
3. Don't fail to blanket your horse when he stands in the cold.
4. Don't forget that nasal catarrh, diphtheria, bronchitis and other ills often result from exposure and chill which follows suddenly checked perspiration.
5. Don't fail to keep your horse's shoes sharp when the streets are slippery.
6. Don't put your horse or mule's slippery feet in unskilled hands. Good feet are spoiled by bad shoeing.
7. Don't keep your horse in an overheated stable, then stand him for hours in a freezing atmosphere and wonder why he became paralyzed.
8. Don't fail to water your horse the first thing in the morning, but not with ice water.
9. Don't load your horse too heavily when the streets and roads are blocked with snow.
10. Don't force him to back a heavy load over a heavy snow-bank. A shovel with a little energy will make it easier for your horse and your conscience.
11. Don't try to convince your horse that he is on skates when the feet strike the slippery asphalt. Go slow.
12. Don't fail to oil your wagon axles. There is a heap of humanity in wagon grease.
13. Don't fail to properly shelter your stock from the cold and exercise it when the weather is good.
14. Don't fail to have your horse's teeth examined. Of what use is food if your horse can't eat it?
15. Don't dock your horse's tail. He needs it in winter as well as summer, and it was put there by a master hand.
16. Don't overcheck your horse. Nature's curves are always graceful.
17. Don't forget that there is more profit in coaxing a horse than in kicking him. Try, gentlemen, and see how it grows on you.

Please blanket your horse and mules while standing—during the cold weather.—Our Dumb Animals.

READY WIT OF WENDELL PHILLIPS

Wendell Phillips was on one occasion lecturing in Ohio, and while on a railroad journey going to keep one of his appointments he met in the car a crowd of clergymen returning from some sort of convention. One of the ministers felt called upon to approach Mr. Phillips, and asked him, "Are you Mr. Phillips?" "I am sir." "Are you trying to free the niggers?" "Yes, sir; I am an abolitionist." "Well, why do you preach your doctrine up here? Why don't you go over into Kentucky?" "Excuse me, are you a preacher?" "I am, sir." "Are you trying to save souls from hell?" "Yes, sir; that's my business." "Well, why don't you go there?" The assailant hurried into the smoker, amid a roar of unsanctified laughter.—Maysville Ledger.

As It Appeared to Her.
Little Mary, whose bump of ardor is large, stopped on her way to breakfast at the door of one of the bedrooms, and with clasped hands exclaimed, "O, my, what an excited room."

Appropriately Described.
"Isn't that a heavenly little dog?" exclaimed a gushing young lady. "Well," replied her companion, "it's certainly a skye terrier."

Wrinkles around the eyes come from loss of fat, and in other parts of the face from the expression of emotions, which is always accompanied by muscle movements.

Awful English Pun.

A young lady began singing and kept it up until her two canaries sank back exhausted in their efforts to out-sing her. Now we understand the meaning of the old saw about killing two birds with one's tone.—London Tit-Bit.

A Snuff-Taker's Text.

There is a story of a clergyman who, mounting the pulpit for the sermon, refreshed himself with several pinches of snuff before announcing his text. This, aptly enough, was "My soul cleaveth unto the dust."

Exception to the Rule.

Mr. Figg—You should remember, my son, that there is nothing attained without labor. You need not expect to get something for nothing. Tommy—I got lots of lickings for nothing, anyhow.

Keep Your Friends.

Never cast aside your friends if by any possibility you can retain them. We are the weakest of spendthrifts if we let one drop off through inattention, or let one push away another, or we hold aloof from one through petty jealousy or headless aloof.

No Time to Spare.

Mother—"Ain't you goin' to wash up them tea things, Mariaranne, before you go out?" Daughter—"No, I ain't. I'm late enough for Mother's 'elp class, as it is."—London Opinion.
